

Scene One

Print these scripts and bring them to class. You do not need to memorize these scripts, but reading them in advance is a good idea so you're familiar with the story.

Scene:	Seven friends embark on a camping trip filled with adventure, teamwork, and a touch of humor.
Roles (6):	Lily, Alex, Lucy, Max, Narrator
Ages:	8-11 years

Campsite in the Woods

Narrator: A radiant morning greeted a group of friends, their eyes sparkling with excitement as they gathered for a camping adventure deep within the forest.

Narrator: Among them was Lily, the bold adventurer whose curiosity often led the way.

Lily: (with enthusiasm) "I can't believe we're finally going camping, you guys!"

Narrator: Beside Lily stood Alex, known for his knack to turn every situation into a barrel of laughter.

Alex: (grinning) "Get ready for some epic marshmallow roasting, guys!"

Scene One

Print these scripts and bring them to class. You do not need to memorize these scripts, but reading them in advance is a good idea so you're familiar with the story.

Campsite in the Woods

Narrator: Lucy, the meticulous planner of the group, joined the chatter.

Lucy: (organizing) "I've got our tent all set up and ready!"

Narrator: And then there was Max, who had a reputation for bringing the unexpected to any adventure.

Max: (mischievously) "I've got a surprise up my sleeve, but it's a secret!"

Narrator: The friends set off along the trail, their excitement growing with every step.

Lily: (delighted) "Look at these wildflowers! They're so pretty!"

Alex: (with a grin) "I bet we can make flower crowns! Who's in?"

Narrator: Their laughter rang through the air as they made crowns from the vibrant petals.

Scene One

Print these scripts and bring them to class. You do not need to memorize these scripts, but reading them in advance is a good idea so you're familiar with the story.

Campsite in the Woods

Narrator: Soon it started to get dark. And sparkles of light began to appear in the air.

Lucy: (with a touch of wonder) "Look at these fireflies starting to twinkle. It's like the forest is lighting up just for us!"

Max: "Hey, Lucy, let's see who can catch the most fireflies!"

Narrator: They laughed and giggled as they each tried to be the "firefly champion."

Lily: "This is the best camping trip ever!"

Alex: (stretching and yawning) "Time flies when you're having fun, but I think it's getting darker."

Lucy: "We should head back to the campsite before it gets too dark."

Scene One

Print these scripts and bring them to class. You do not need to memorize these scripts, but reading them in advance is a good idea so you're familiar with the story.

Campsite in the Woods

Narrator: As dusk approached, and they made their way back to camp, an unsettling rustle in the bushes startled the group.

Lily: (with caution) "Did you guys hear that?"

Narrator: Fearful looks were exchanged, and the idea of running into a wild animal sent a shiver down their spines.

Alex: (whispering) "What if it's a bear?"

Narrator: Their heart began to beat faster as they peered into the darkness, their minds playing tricks on them.

Lucy: (nervously) "M-Maybe we should head back to the campsite?"

Narrator: Just as they started to feel really scared, a shadowy figure emerged from the trees.

Scene Two

Print these scripts and bring them to class. You do not need to memorize these scripts, but reading them in advance is a good idea so you're familiar with the story.

Scene:	Seven friends embark on a camping trip filled with adventure, teamwork, and a touch of humor.
Roles (6):	Lily, Alex, Lucy, Max, Lily's Dad, Narrator
Ages:	8-11 years

Campsite in the Woods

Max: (gasping) "Look out, it's a bear!"

Narrator: Panic rippled through the group until the figure stepped into the moonlight, revealing none other than Lily's dad, wearing a makeshift bear costume.

Lily's Dad: (chuckling) "Gotcha, didn't I?"

Narrator: Laughter replaced fear as they realized the "bear" was just a playful prank.

Lily: (laughing) "Dad, you scared us half to death!"

Lily's Dad: (laughing) "I couldn't resist giving you all a taste of adventure!"

Scene Two

Print these scripts and bring them to class. You do not need to memorize these scripts, but reading them in advance is a good idea so you're familiar with the story.

Campsite in the Woods

Narrator: The scary feelings disappeared as the friends gathered around a fire.

Alex: (grinning) "Leave it to Lily's dad to turn a camping trip into an adventure!"

Narrator: With the bear prank behind them, the friends huddled around the campfire, roasting marshmallows and sharing tales late into the night.

Lucy: (smiling) "Who needs bears when we've got Lily's dad?"

Max: (grinning) "Speaking of surprises, I've got one for all of us."

Narrator: With a twinkle in his eye, Max pulled out a basket filled with flavored marshmallows, chocolate bars, and graham crackers.

Alex: (exclaiming) "S'mores, everyone! Max, you're the best!"

Scene Two

Print these scripts and bring them to class. You do not need to memorize these scripts, but reading them in advance is a good idea so you're familiar with the story.

Campsite in the Woods

Narrator: The friends gathered around the campfire, toasting marshmallows and creating gooey s'mores, their laughter and chatter dancing with the flames.

Alex: (contentedly) "This has been such an amazing adventure."

Lily: (softly) "We should do this again sometime."

Max: (nodding) "Absolutely, count me in."